Attorney's Docket Number: 021331A

Filing Date: 8/6/03

Continuing Data: Division of 10/289,295 (11/7/02 now U.S. Patent No. 6,639,280)

Claimed Foreign Priority Date: 1/17/02 (JPX)

Applicant(s): Sugayani et al. (Sekino)

Examiner: Howard Weiss

Priority

1. Acknowledgment is made of applicant's claim for foreign priority under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d). The certified copy has been filed in parent Application No. 10/289,295, filed on 11/7/02.

Specification

2. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: ---now U.S. Patent No. 6,639,280--- should be inserted after "November 7, 2002" in the first sentence of Page 1 . Appropriate correction is required.
3. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

5. Claims 1 to 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kato (JP 09-246505), Freestone et al. (U.S. Patent No. 3,054,709) and Lin et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,596,185).

Kato shows most aspects of the instant invention (e.g. Figures 1) including

- forming a laminated substrate 1 consisting of a support layer 2, an insulating layer 3b and a device layer 4
- said device and support layer consist of single crystal silicon and their crystalline axes are  $\langle 110 \rangle$  and shifted by  $45^\circ$

Kato does not show the forming of scribe lines parallel to said axes, semiconductor devices formed between said scribe lines, grooves form through said device layer, splitting the substrate along said scribe lines and wirings form parallel to said axes. Freestone et al. teach to form scribe lines (Figure 2) parallel to the principle axis to form wafers with smooth edges and less strain (Column 1 Lines 39 to 41). It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to form scribe lines parallel to the principle axis as taught by Freestone et al. in the process of Kato to form wafers with smooth edges and less strain.

Lin et al. teach (e.g. Figures 2) to form grooves 112 through the device layer 108 and to form devices 102 between scribe lines 104 to reduce stress-related problems resulting form separating components (Column 1 Lines 30 to 55). It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to form grooves through the device layer and to form devices between scribe lines as taught by Lin et al. in the process of Kato to reduce stress-related problems resulting form separating components.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Falckenberg (U.S. Patent No. 3,816,906) and Woelfle (U.S. Patent No. 3,542,266) teach to form scribe lines and grooves together in a single crystalline silicon substrate.
